Area Students Are On Campus Today for SNEA Meeting

Student National Education Association is being held on this campus today. High school juniors and seniors and junior college students of northwest Missouri and southwest Iowa are attending this conference.

Mary Dale Flora and Beverly Hetchell are in charge of the day's program.

The John Dewey chapter of the SNEA and the Horace Mann high school Future Teachers of America Club will be the co-hosts of the social hour under the direction of Rosemary Pearson.

Discussion leaders of Group I will be Bob Barry and Jeanette Meyer. Consultant will be Miss Mary Hash, St. Joseph. Laura McCollum, Des Moines, will be secretary; Evelyn Nash, St. Joseph, reporter.

W. Ebert and Shirley Dredge will be leaders of Group II. Mrs. Line Brown, St. Joseph, will be consultant; Judith Simpson, Parkville, secretary; Rose Ann Guard, reporter.

Ray Fore will be the leader of Group III; Miss Helen Gorsuch, Maryville, consultant; Kay Ryan, Mount Ayr, and Georgalee George, Albany, secretary and reporter, respectively.

Discussion leader for Group IV will be Raedene Eberle; Miss Vivian Johnston, Mount Ayr, consultant; Nancy Ann Canaday, St. Joseph, secretary; Linda Zideell, St. Joseph, reporter.

Harold Wilkinson will be Group leader; Delivee Cramer, secretary. Consultants will be Miss (Continued on Page Two)

Sandfords to Give Viola-Piano Recital

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sandford will present a recital March 10 at 8:15 p.m. in the Horace Mann auditorium. Mr. Sandford will play the viola, and Mrs. Sandford will play the piano.

Numbers to be played are the following: "Sonata in G Minor" by J. S. Bach, "Sonata in F Minor" by Anton Rubinstein, and "Sonata" by Sir Arthur Bliss.

Two More Speakers to Assist

Anderline Farmer

Miss Anderline Farmer, Director of Student Work of the Kansas City Baptist Association, and Father Arnold Blaes, of Conception Abbey, will speak on "Faith or Despair." Rose Mary Meyer will be the presiding officer at that time.

Dr. Marcus Bach will speak on "Russia's Challenge to Our Faith" in the assembly at 9 a.m. today as a part of this campus's observance of Religious Emphasis Week, which began Sunday and will end tomorrow.

Parents to Visit Campus on April 3 For Annual Event

Plans are well underway for the annual Parents' Day which will be held Thursday, April 3.

Special lectures, exhibits, and demonstrations will be included in the day's activities. Classrooms will be open for parent visitation. There will be an assembly at 10:00 a.m., and from 9:00 to 10:00 that morning, a coffee hour will be held.

Representatives of the campus organizations will assist with serving at the coffee hour.

Heading the committee for planning this event is Dr. F. W. Grube, chairman. Other members of the committee are Mr. Donald N. Valk, in charge of exhibits and special lectures; Dr. Kathryn S. Riddle, assembly program; Mr. James Johnson, student participation; Mr. Ryland Milner, publicity; and Dr. Wanda Walker, in charge of the coffee hour.

Students are requested to ask their parents to attend the events.

Students to Be In Mood Play

Drama department members will present Emlyn Williams' three-act mystery, "Night Must Fall," for the student body next Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Students Design Sets

Sets for the play were designed by members of the class in speech arts problems, who are Floyd Worley, Don Norton, and Donald Evans. They were assisted by Joan Setzer and Marjorie Canon who helped with the detailed painting.

Dr. Ralph Fulson, chairman of the speech and drama department, is director of the play.

"Night Must Fall" is a psychological play, the story of a cold-blooded killer who moves deliberately and arrogantly.

Scenes to Set Mood

Because of the mood of the play, the one principal set which will be used has been broken up to give an interesting study of light and shadow. Jogs, recessed windows, and an alcove have been used to give this effect.

Two prologues will preface the play. One of them will be set in a forest scene and the other in the criminal court of appeals. The two settings will be quite simple however.

Expenses for "Night Must Fall" have been kept to a minimum by reusing costumes which were found to be suitable from previous productions.

Women Students Take Necessary First Steps Toward Governing Body

First-step plans were made at the dormitory meeting, Wednesday evening, February 26, for the establishment of an International Association of Women Students' Governing Body on this campus.

Five girls who attended the meeting of I. A. W. S. at the University of Missouri recently, outlined the aims, functions, and regulations of the organization.

A petition requesting authority to proceed with plans must pass through the Student Senate before further provisions can be made.

Ag Students Leave For Oklahoma City To Judge Livestock

After several weeks of hard practice, nine ag students left this morning for Oklahoma City to participate in a formal inter-collegiate livestock judging contest on Saturday, March 8.

Of these nine, five will be on the team and the other four will be alternates. These boys, coached by the Ag Club sponsor, F. B. Houghton, have been judging livestock practically every day for the past several weeks in an attempt to make the team. Records of the boys' performances have been kept and the five with the highest number of total points are on the team.

Nine Make Trip

The students making the trip are Thomas Johnson, Gene Anderson, Gene Roe, Charles Knorr, Larry Rosenbohm, Jerald Barton, Ray Ellis, Richard Johnson, and Dale Thomas.

Twelve classes of livestock, each consisting of four animals, will be judged in the contest and oral reasons will be given on eight of the classes judged. Judged in the contest will be beef cattle, quarter horses, sheep, and hogs.

To Announce Awards

At 8:00 Sunday morning, an award breakfast will be held in the Biltmore hotel. Awards will be given to the high teams and to the high individuals in the contest.

Northwest Missouri State College has never won the contest at Oklahoma City, but in 1955 it was second and lacked only one point of winning the contest. In 1956 Ted Reed was the high individual in the contest. Also, Northwest Missouri State College has twice been the high team in beef cattle, and has ranked high in all divisions of the contest.

English Head to Be Judge for Council

Dr. Frank Grube, chairman of the English department, was recently nominated a member of one of the six two-member judging teams for the National Council of Teachers of English in the state of Missouri.

Purpose of this council is to give significant public recognition to outstanding high school students in English, and to recommend them for college scholarships.

Each nominee must submit three samples of his writing plus three letters supporting his nomination. High school seniors are eligible for the awards.

Drama Critic to Be Assembly Feature At 10 a.m. Monday

John Beaufort, New York drama critic for the Christian Science Monitor, will make a return engagement at this college in the 10 a.m. assembly Monday, March 10.

Beaufort, a veteran of the Broadway beat, will discuss plays of the current season when he lectures here. The title of his talk will be "The Critic's Happy Lot."

According to Beaufort, the principal heroes of the current Broadway season will probably be Shakespeare, Shaw, and O'Neill.

O'Neill's Play Is Impressive

"The most impressive 'new' play has been Eugene O'Neill's 'Long Day's Journey into Night,' which was actually written in 1940 and which can scarcely help winning the Pulitzer Prize and Drama Critics Circle Award," says Beaufort.

Mr. Beaufort has drawn up "ten commandments" for drama critics. Most of them were inspired by complaints about reviewers on the part of theater people and the public.

Rules for the Well-Behaved

Beaufort's ten rules for the well-behaved critic are as follows: (1) Thou shalt not be late. (2) Thou shalt respond. (3) Thou shalt recognize thine own prejudices. (4) Thou shalt be modest. (5) Thou shalt respect thy public. (6) Thou shalt beware of power - real or imagined. (7) Thou shalt not sneer. (8) Thou shalt not kill with a word. (9) Thou shalt honor the creative spirit, welcome new talent, hail the audacious innovator, and be kind to producers. (10) Thou shalt crusade for the living theatre.

Asked whether he always lives up to his own rules, Beaufort replied "I'm working on it."

Students to Take Proficiency Exam

English Proficiency examinations are scheduled for March 12 at 10:00 a.m. in the auditorium.

All students who have completed 45 hours or more and who have not taken the examination should complete it at this time.

Students will be notified of their eligibility to complete the examination. However, students who are eligible and who are not notified should contact the Registrar's office to make arrangements for the examination.

Johnsons, Garretts Go To Danforth Conference

Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Garrett attended the Danforth Foundation regional conference Saturday and Sunday in Kansas City.

Kermit Edy, professor of labor relations, University of Chicago, was the main speaker.

Mr. Johnson is librarian at the College and the local Danforth Foundation representative. Mr. Garrett is a faculty member of the College biology department.

Arnold Blaes

Monty McVicker will preside at the assembly.

At 10 a.m. tomorrow, Father Arnold Blaes, of the Conception Abbey, will speak on "Faith or Despair." Rose Mary Meyer will be the presiding officer at that time.

Dr. Bach spoke on "The Gospel of the Quest" yesterday afternoon and on "The Second Mile" Monday morning. At a supper meeting Sunday evening, his title was "The Will to Believe."

"TODAY'S DEMONSTRATION WILL BE ON HOW TO SET A BROKEN ARM."

Campus Reith's Third Floor Displays Show Lack Of Care Despite Historical Value

By James Crafton

Who is letting the school's potential museum lie broken, torn, and unlighted under a mat of dust?

Furthermore, what is the origin of the displays along the third floor corridor?

And what is their purpose in being there?

The last two questions can be answered, in generalities at least. But the first is one of the campus mysteries that is never quite solved. The almost forgotten museum pieces in the display cases along the dim hall of the third floor seem to be without a curator. So long have they been unattended that no one can remember who should care for them.

Most of the pieces are apparently gifts. The dates of these donations go back many years, some earlier than 1940. Explanatory placards in some of the cases indicate that a W. P. A. project was responsible for much of the model work. Oldtimers on campus can vaguely recall something of provisions in a will that contributed to the purchase of other pieces.

Collections Represent Work

To create a small museum is the obvious purpose of the collection. Museum items in the agriculture, biology, and art departments add noticeably to this end. Altogether, they make up an interesting collection, and one that must represent a good deal of time and work.

At the east end of the hall, in the case with the broken glass lying on its bottom shelf, are several antique books and newspapers. The corridor light in front of this case remains unlighted every day. And even if there were light, the printing is for the most part too covered with dust to be read.

Papers Collect Dust

But under the dust lie books, that could have been the beginning of an early 19th century library. The newspapers bear headlines concerning events such as Lincoln's assassination and the Spanish-American war. And there are what appear to be a few notes of confederate currency.

In a transportation case across the hall is a short history of water travel. There is a Greek galley and a nineteenth century American revenue cutter. There are also several other boats from the centuries between these times. Some represent more primitive constructions, such as the Sioux Indian's frame and skin hull boat.

Plane Models Are Included

Although slightly damaged, Orville and Wilbur Wright's 1903 biplane is modeled in the transportation display. Next to it sits the undercarriage of another famous airplane. Its fuselage and wings are broken away and fallen too far behind the shelf to be easily recognized. This is M. Bleriot's 1909 cross-channel monoplane.

In another case, not quite full, much of the world is represented by models of its dwelling places. They range from castle to cottage, from thatched hut to brick mansion.

West Case Is Best Preserved

At the west end of the hall is the best preserved case of the group. It contains several stuffed birds, mementos from four wars involving Americans, and relief maps. The relief maps were made in 1942 at the request of army officials in Omaha. The art department and W. P. A. collaborated on this project.

These displays can make a tour of the third floor interesting and intriguing, though they are dust-covered.

Litterbugs

Student Senate requests that all students co-operate in the Den campaign against "litterbugs." Ash trays are prominent and waste baskets are convenient.

Vatican Films Are Available for Use

Microfilms of manuscripts from the Vatican Library are now available at the St. Louis University to students doing research work, according to James Johnson, college librarian. Mr. Johnson attended a luncheon in Kansas City recently, where he heard President Paul G. Reinart, St. Louis University, speak about these microfilms.

Six hundred thousand manuscripts from the Vatican Library are included in this collection. It also includes rare volumes from the library's bound books.

These microfilms cannot be lent, but they are available to any qualified scholar who wishes to go to St. Louis to use them. They include microfilms on law, language, history, physical science, philosophy, art, classical studies, political science, medicine, astronomy, social science, literature, and drama.

Part of the purpose of micro-filming these manuscripts is to protect them. One negative copy has been buried in Europe, and another one, in the United States.

Area Students Are on Campus Today for SNEA Meeting

Harriet A. Woods, Clarinda, and Miss Cella Sutherland, St. Joseph. Leola Hopkins, Clarinda, will be the reporter.

Dr. Howard George, Dr. Leon Miller, and Dr. Wanda Walker, assisted by Mr. Kenneth Jonson, of the Iowa State Education Association, who will give the keynote address, will be consultants.

Personals . . .

Faculty members are urged to contribute to the annual American Red Cross Drive. Contributions will be made through John L. Harr, chairman of the social science department, who has been requested to solicit the faculty.

Mr. Harold Voggeser, from Atlantic, Iowa, passed his Certified Public Accountant examination in November. Mr. Voggeser is working for an auditing firm in Chillicothe. Harold graduated from the College in 1956.

Mrs. Nelson T. Grabau, supervising teacher of the home economics department of Horace Mann Laboratory School, attended a national meeting of the Home Economics Education in Washington, D. C., from Monday, February 17, to Friday, February 21.

Marine second Lieutenant Jim R. Joy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray S. Joy, of Kansas City, graduated from Officer Basic School, February 15, at Quantico, Virginia.

Mr. Joy was a graduate from the College in May, 1957.

Letter of Thanks . . .

Editor's Note: Students living at Residence Hall gave a Valentine party and gifts for the residents of Pleasant View Rest Home. Mr. Arthur J. Cauffield, a former professor at this college, is one of the residents there.

Dear Mrs. Luer,

Because of the generous ladies of Residence Hall, I wish to thank them for their worthwhile visit to our Pleasant View Rest Home.

I think their singing was very good and entertaining. That contralto voice on "Whispering Hope" was charming. They really gave me a thrill. I always loved such voices.

The brief visit with Miss Gloria McConkey was pleasing and left me in a more cheerful mood.

Their gifts of fruit were fine, and all tasted delicious. When we were at breakfast the next morning with that fresh grapefruit, it seemed more like sitting about the table in Hotel President, Kansas City . . .

Even though I have not taught since 1951, I still feel myself a part of the college, and rejoice to watch it growing so fast, and expanding its influence to larger fields.

It seems the increase in numbers naturally follows the leadership of our progressive President J. W. Jones and his assistants.

Should the college continue to augment and receive the millions appropriated, it may be a young university with enough new buildings for room to add more graduate work—even to granting the Ph.D or D. Ed. degrees.

Pardon my visions—I just had to express them in words.

Thank you again, and success to Residence Hall girls.

Cordially,
Arthur J. Cauffield
(Geography, Emeritus)

Credit and Discredit . . .

Students turned out in large numbers to hear the Budapest String Quartet February 17. In fact, the number was surprisingly large for this type of performance, and the students should be congratulated for this expression of interest in fine music.

There was, however, one point of criticism of a few members of the audience. This was the fact that some students were studying, discussing class assignments, and whispering to one another during the performance.

TOUCHE.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to invite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

The Backward Glance . . .

Are you in a hurry? A few students on campus seem to think they are in a bigger hurry than anyone else; these students are the crowders who crowd into meal lines at the Union cafeteria.

A crowder doesn't take into consideration that the people behind him were already in line and have been waiting for their meal patiently and politely as most college people do.

It is most annoying to see a student or a group of students come in the door, hang up their coats, then walk casually down the line looking for a friend who will let them in line.

Even though the crowder has no consideration for others he seems to feel guilty. A crowder never looks back at the people he or she has just crowded back; the crowder just doesn't have the courage to look these people in the eye because he knows he has just cheated them.

If you are a crowder, next time you crowd into line, turn around and look at the people behind you. You can be sure they will be looking at you; so you won't have any trouble looking them in the eye, or will you?—Pierce.

They're Talking About . . .

THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT . . . It's later than you think: Mid semester exams just around the corner (too close for comfort) . . . warm weather and excuses for losing books . . . Tower queen disappointments and who didn't vote . . . fraternity smokers and why grades weren't better . . . Social science reports, the root of all evil.

THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT . . . innocent contractors causing banging radiators that interrupt lesson assignments (saved by the bang) . . . overcrowded parking lots and unexpected motorists . . . the weather man and soft balmy breezes or sudden deep freezes . . . assignments, assignments, and more assignments.

THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT . . . the approaching swim show and the mermaid club . . . Marland Ray's good basketball season and the last game . . . routine, study, midnight oil, and broken dates (woe is me) . . . vacations that aren't in the near future . . . college coeds who feel first class when their radiator is drained and the tank is out of gas.

has to Attend Annual State Day

A Sigma Alpha members attend their annual State Day is Saturday, March 15. This will be held at Emporia College at Emporia, Kansas. Gene Vonderschmidt, Margie Mor, Sybil Sims, Ann Porter, Graham, Rosalie McCrary, Riley, Janice Wilkinson, Jane Hinderlitter, Ferris, Norma Long, and Bonnie are the girls attending.

State Day is an annual convention of all chapters in Kansas, Nebraska, and Missouri. The convention is held to foster sisterly relationships, exchange ideas, and promote unity.

Phi chapter is in charge of a panel discussion on "Alumni Relations." In charge is Norma Long. Also, Mary Connor will tell of the achievements of Phi Phi during last year.

A social hour is planned Saturday morning to get acquainted with Alphas from the other chapters.

Bump Is Elected Delta Zeta Head

Bump was recently chosen president of the Delta Zeta chapter. Marilyn Leighty and Jo Olenius were elected first and second vice president, respectively. Jo Parent was chosen as treasurer.

Other officers elected are as follows: Colene Hughes, senior Panhellenic delegate; Carolina W. junior Panhellenic delegate; Bonnie Lohmeier, record secretary; Barrie Parks, corresponding secretary; Edy Eck, social chairman; Ruth Ann Baker, standards chairman; Dolores Behrends, publicity chairman; Janet Grider, scholastic chairman; and Margaret Fitschen, treasury chairman.

Independents Plan Saturday Car Wash

Members of Independent Club will have a workday Saturday, March 8, at the car wash. In charge of the plans for the car wash are Duane Clement, Chuck Jones, and Pat Glenn.

Money made from these workdays will be used to send delegates to the National Independent Association Conference in Tulsa, Oklahoma. The conference will be held March 27-29.

Brassfield to Represent College at Inauguration

Earl Brassfield, class of 1958, will represent Northwest Missouri State College at the inauguration of Jack Stauffer Wilkes, president of Oklahoma City University.

Will Inspect Furniture

Mrs. Elizabeth Luer, Mrs. Helen Brown, and Mr. Luther G. Bell recently traveled to Kansas to inspect new furniture which will be used in the new men's and women's dormitories.

For Sale!

Student directories are still available for those who have not already purchased one. According to Jerry Overton, student body president, the directories may be purchased in the office of the dean of men for 10 cents.

Art Class Visits Local Sign Shop

Students of the commercial arts class visited the Ellis Meek sign shop Tuesday, February 25.

In his shop at 715 South Main, Mr. Meek described the design, construction, and maintenance of road signs. He also spoke to the students on large silkscreen work and the use of reflecting signs.

Mr. Meek is a former student in the art department here on the campus. His advertising company was the first of its kind in Maryville.

Several graduates from the art department are doing similar work outside Maryville. Miss Olive DeLuce, chairman of the art department, relates.

Periodical Publishes Instructor's Article

Dr. George Gayler had an article published in the winter issue of the Journal of Illinois State Historical Society. The article concerned the death of Joseph Hyrum Smith, a founder of the Mormon faith.

This article was a follow-up to one published in the spring of 1956, which was a study of the background of the assassination and martyrdom of the Smith brothers and of the part the Illinois governor had in the affair.

Mrs. Bell Speaks On Silver Crafts

Mrs. Albert Bell of the Bell Jewelers addressed a 10 o'clock and an 11 o'clock art and home management class, Thursday, Feb. 27. Her topic was silver craftsmanship.

Mrs. Bell's talk was illustrated by five table settings of silver. She discussed the history of silverware from remote times, according to Miss Olive DeLuce, chairman of the art department. Some consideration was given to style and durability in respect to modern homes.

Classes to receive this address were Fine Arts 131 and Home Economics 42.

Mrs. Bell is a graduate of a Connecticut college which deals with the silver crafts.

McCullough to Be Chicago Delegate

Bob McCullough, junior, was chosen as delegate from Kappa Delta Pi to attend the biannual convocation which will be held in Chicago this year. Dr. John Harr, counselor, will accompany McCullough to Chicago.

McCullough is a social science major and a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. He is the son of Mrs. Ruth McCullough, Albany.

Young GOP's Hold Kick-Off Meeting

Young Republicans of this campus held their "kick-off" meeting Wednesday, February 19.

Max Adkins, district chairman; Leigh Wilson, county chairman; and Mrs. E. D. Imes, state committeewoman, gave fact-filled speeches on a Republican future. Tony Abdullah, Iraq, gave the meeting an international air by attending as an "unofficial" Republican.

Following the meeting were appointments of committee members for the Young Republican group. Danny DeMott, Francis Hunt, and Chuck Cairns were named to the publicity committee. The program agenda will be formulated by Gary Smith and Wayne Wells. Dave Hansen, Bill Merrick, Louanne Robeau, and Bill Morse head the nominating committee for the election of officers.

Future plans of the group include hearing speeches from Mayor Stanley I. Dale, St. Joseph, and State Young Republican President, Bill Wade, of St. Louis.

Home Ec Students Are Hostesses to Faculty

College women living at the Home Management House were dinner hostesses to Miss Martha Beatty and Mrs. Marjorie Person, of the business department on Monday, March 3. Miss Mabel Cook and Miss Thelma Long of the home economics department were guests on Wednesday, March 5.

Delta Zeta Chooses Pledge to Honor

Dolores Behrends has been named outstanding pledge of Delta Zeta sorority. Margaret Fitschen was announced as having the highest grade point average of the sorority for last semester. These names were revealed at the pledges' initiation as actives Friday, February 28.

Dolores is a freshman business major, and Margaret is a freshman English major.

Young Democrats to Hold Meeting Tonight, 7 p.m.

Young Democrats will hold a meeting in the south dining room of the Union, this evening, at 7:30 p. m.

Jim Farley, past president of St. Joseph Young Democrats and past 6th district chairman, will be the speaker of the evening.

Graduates Enter Pupils in Contest

Two art department graduates have successfully entered two of their students in the Scholastic Art awards competition at Kansas City.

Mrs. Carol Peters Youngblood, a 1956 graduate, is teaching in Kansas City, Kansas; Mrs. Rolande Thompson Pinkerton, a 1957 graduate, is teaching at Central High School in St. Joseph.

Some of the awards given in this contest are college scholarships and cash gifts, according to Miss Olive DeLuce.

This competition, which eventually reaches a national level, draws works from all over the midwest. It is particularly noteworthy that teachers so young in their profession as Mrs. Youngblood and Mrs. Pinkerton should have students place in the competition, according to Miss DeLuce.

Delta Zeta Initiates New Members Sunday

New members of Delta Zeta sorority are Barrie Parks, Dolores Behrends, Margaret Fitschen, and Bonnie Lohmeier. The girls were formally initiated Sunday, March 2.

Two Instructors Travel To Bloomington, Indiana

Mr. Elwyn DeVore went to Bloomington, Indiana, February 24 to confer with his professors regarding the writing of his doctoral dissertation. Mr. DeVore is a teacher in the business department.

Mr. Robert Gregory, coach, went along to discuss graduate work.

'Moments to Remember' Is Theme for Water Show

Miss B. Magill Is Sponsor-Director Of Dolphin Event

Sigma Phi Dolphin Swim Club of the College will present its tenth annual water show March 19, 20, and 21 at the College pool, under the direction of Miss Bonnie Magill, Dolphin sponsor.

"Moments to Remember," this year's theme will feature the following numbers: "Bubbles in the Wine" by Margie O'Connor, director, and Barbara Benning; "Funny Valentine" by Vicki Prather and Arline Stumpf, directors, and Beverly Lyle; "Where the Wind Blows" by Mary Inez Howland, director, Kay Reid, and Peggy Riley.

"Picnic" by Barbara Benning, Mary Jane Bridgewater, Edith Eckhoff, Ruth Ann Higginbotham, Beverly Lyle, Lou Jane Taylor, and Janice Wilkinson.

"September Song" by Donna Sue Jones and Peggy Riley, directors, Nancy Clark, and Margie O'Connor; "Stormy Weather" by Carla Rippstein, director, Karen Hawk, Mary Inez Howland, and Kay Reid; "White Christmas" by Mary Jane Bridgewater, director, Edith Eckhoff, Ruth Ann Higginbotham, and Ann Porter.

Brown and Kuenzi to Help

Two guest swimmers will appear in the number "Easter Parade," directed by Karen Hawk. Appearing with Karen and Carla Rippstein will be Dale Brown and Ned Kuenzi.

Mrs. Shirley Denny Dunster will present a solo number, "Old Black Magic."

Benning Is Student Director

Barbara Benning, student director of the show is in charge of the opening number, "Through the Years," and the finale, "Moments to Remember," which will feature the entire Dolphin Club.

Miss Benning is chairman of the committee writing the script for "Moments to Remember." Other members of the committee are Donna Sue Jones, Ann Porter, and Janice Wilkinson.

Three Make Scenery

Scenery for the show will be made by Peggy Riley and her committee, Nancy Clark and Kay Reid.

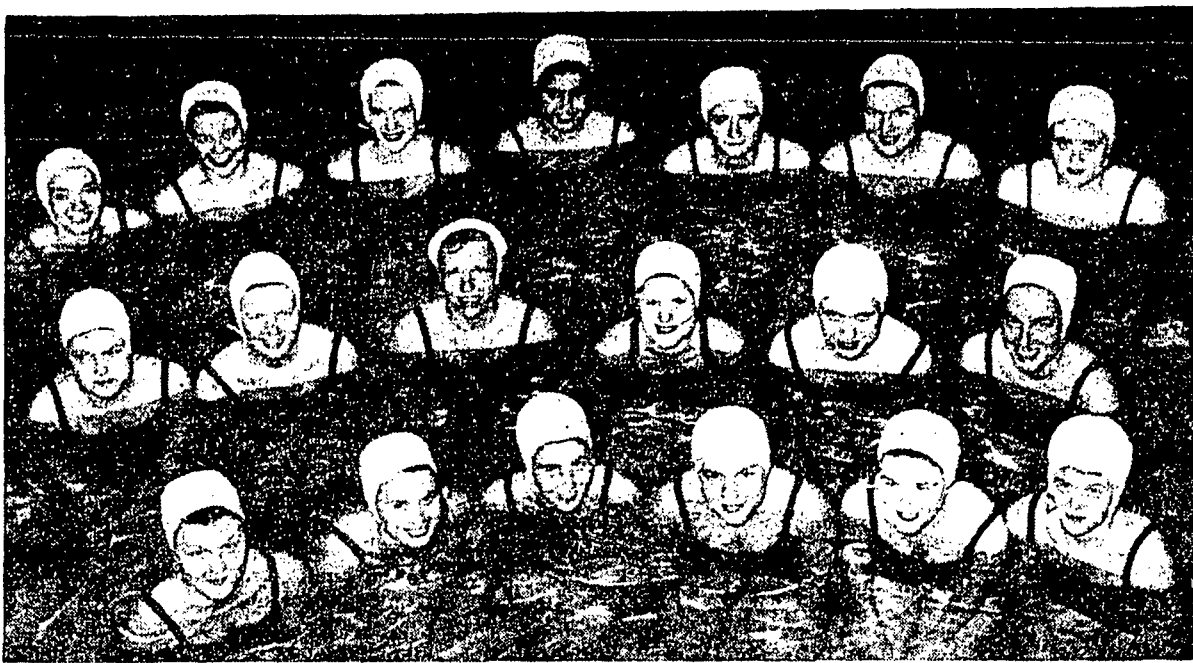

Seniors Barbara Benning, Shirley Denny Dunster, Mary Inez Howland, and Margie O'Connor will be appearing in their fourth water show.

Tickets for the show may be purchased from members of the Dolphin Club or Miss Magill.

Lt. Hutcheon Graduates

Spring Cinder Sport to Enter College Campus Athletic Picture

Sporting eyes on the Maryville campus are shifting from basketball's "pine board forest" to the Bearcat cinder trail, with the advent of the abbreviated, indoor track season. Developing cat-like starts and firm running legs are the objectives of the Maryville track squad as they prepare for the M. I. A. A. indoor meet to be held in Columbia, March 22.

Eleven foot strides of such former stars as Herschel Neil will certainly be missed this spring. A world sprint record was tied by this hulking 6 ft. 3 in. thincad when he toured Europe with Jesse Owens in 1936.

Thoughts Were in Victory

"Though he was slow on his starts, he always thought that he could catch them before they got to the other end," were the words of track coach Milner.

Neil's present dashing "shadows" may only be classified as hopeful potential as pulled muscles have brought an abrupt halt to last season's races. Bob James, who won both the 60 yd. dash and low hurdles at the M. I. A. A. meet two years ago, pulled a muscle in last year's contest, and was forced to withdraw after the sprint.

Must Battle March Winds

Bad luck seems to travel in pairs, as quarter man Duane Jackson was also hobbled during his two laps around the 220 yd. oval. Lacking an indoor practice track, these thincads were forced to battle the raw March weather while training.

Broadjumper Roger Wake and weightman John Schulze round out the prospective nucleus which will probably represent Maryville on Columbia's cork and dirt field of contest. Wake brought the conference outdoor blue ribbon honors to the Bearcat trophy den last spring.

Clifton Schmitt and Sam Porter could provide strength in the hurdles, while Bruce Wake will turn in a determined two-mile performance this spring. However, the middle distances are wide open to any Bearcat who has enough capacity for the gruelling demand placed upon the human system.

Stars Worked

Pictures of past Bearcat cinder greats clutter the office of the spirited track coach. Mr. Milner's eyes twinkled with the memories of the meteoric performances turned in by past pupils, noting that each had an insatiable capacity for work and an eye for perfection of technique.

Wrestlers Defeat Jewell Cardinals In Saturday Match

Approximately 75 persons watched the Bearcat wrestlers defeat the William Jewell Cardinals 25-10 in the final match of the season here last Saturday. This completed the first season of intercollegiate wrestling in several years.

Ron Kelley (WJ) decisioned Bert Young in the opening match and Bert Miller, also of William Jewell, quickly followed up with a decision over Bob Myers. After that the Bearcat grapplers completely dominated the mats by taking five of the next six matches, all of which were plus.

Marv Renksecker (M) pinned Ron Regdon in six minutes and forty-nine seconds, Skip Witt (M) pinned Tom Suter (4:30), Larry Schweizer (M) pinned Skip Owens (2:01), and Wayne Anderson (M) had the fastest pin of the day, beating Don Ebberhart in one minute and forty-six seconds.

Pic Hartzell (WJ) pinned Charles Booher to salvage William Jewell's last match of the day and Doyle Thomas (M) pinned Ben Disselhoff, former AA champion, (3:48).

Baseball Prospects Hold First Meeting

Coach Neal Tremble held a meeting for all candidates for this year's varsity baseball team last Wednesday.

Approximately fifty prospects showed up for this meeting; however, Coach Tremble expects the number to go well over the one hundred mark when he moves his team from the gym to an outside practice area.

Pitchers and catchers have been working out in the gym in preparation for the coming season, which begins with a home game April 4.

Cameron Wins

Cameron, defeating Maryville High, won the Class M Regional here Saturday.

when that great ship went down and the last thing to leave the sinking ship was a bottle of Coca-Cola. That's because all hands stuck to Coke to the end. Now there's popularity! That's the kind of loyalty the sparkling lift, the good taste of Coke engenders. Man the lifeboats, have a Coke!
